Novel Coronavirus	Roberta Sturm, Knox County Health Department Epidemiologist, presented current information on Coronavirus. This is a quickly evolving situation and information changes regularly. Exercise	Exercise planning meeting met on January 24. Tentative date of March 27 (primary) and April 24 (secondary) were selected as exercise dates. • Advantage to exercise date of March 27, better for student volunteers. Disadvantage, Epis are not available. Group decided student volunteer participation took precedence. (Update: EMS consultant is also not available for primary date, secondary date selected). • Exercise Scenario: On April 24, 2020, approximately 8:45 a.m., several explosions occur in highly populated areas of Sevier county, causing high numbers of casualties and fatalities. The surge of patients into the local hospital, LeConte Medical Center, quickly exceeds the hospitals resources and measures are taken regionally to disperse patients so that each hospital receives a surge of patients. Resources are diverted to Sevier county to help with patient movement, communications and supplies. Terroristic activity is suspected. An hour later, an identified terrorist group executes a second attack, with carefully coordinated cyber strikes to multiple power stations, hacking the operational technology systems within the infrastructure. The strategic attacks quickly overload the power grid, causing a cascade of secondary outages across our region. Not only does this leave several hospitals in our area without power, but other health care facilities (including long term care, home health/hospice, dialysis, and ancillary clinics) as well. Many regional resources are still located in Sevier County. • Evacuating facilities: Fort Loudon Medical Center, Turkey Creek Medical Center, Methodist Medical Center • Exercise plans will be added to our website on our exercise page. http://www.ketcoalition.org/members-portal/exercise-documents/ • Mid Term planning meeting: February 18, 2020 2:30-4:00 KCHD • Final planning meeting: April 14, 3:30 KCHD (immediately following Healthcare Coalition meeting).
New HPP Director	New HPP Director: Diane Dubinsky. Diane has served in several healthcare roles as well as work with the American Red Cross in disaster events.
